HoloPro™ at NASDAQ

The latest HoloPro™ in the visitors' waiting area of NASDAQ in New York City

During his US journey on occasion of the Global Shop pronova MD Martin Kischkoweit-Lopin had a special experience. Together with Michael Gaffney of Brookview Technologies, he had the opportunity to attend the opening of the leading electronic stock exchange. Every day at 9:30 a.m. the opening is celebrated at the headquarters of NASDAQ: A representative of a company listed at NASDAQ is allowed to ring the bell.

The special reason for the visit of NASDAQ was the new installation of two 50" HoloPro™ custom-made screens that had been integrated into ceiling-high glass elements. The representative of NASDAQ was enthusiastic about this special kind of presentation.
